Call for Submissions for Choreologica

Choreologica, the refereed journal of the European Association of Dance Historians, aims to provide a forum for historical and theoretical explorations of dance histories and practices. These may include analyses of individual works or investigations, whether they may be monographic, contextual or interdisciplinary. Submissions may address topics ranging from past dance practices to contemporary themes. More in particular, the editorial board welcomes essays rethinking current approaches and theoretical understanding or dance practice, history or crossovers into other disciplines.

Articles submitted to Choreologica are subject to blind refereeing procedures. For more information, please access: <http://www.eadh.com/publications/how-to-contribute.php>
